REDISTRICTING ISSUE BEFORE STATE SENATE

Expect Battle When Bill Is Argued Today

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 15. (AP)—A battle of giants is expected on the floor of the senate Wednesday morning when Chicago and downstate will lock horns over the Dailey resolution on redistricting. What the outcome of the debate will be is problematical since several of the senators have expressed doubt that the measure will come to a vote tomorrow.

The resolution calls for the appointment of a joint committee of twelve to draw a bill apportioning the state according to population as determined by the census of 1920 and to report the bill within sixty days.

One phalanx of the reapportionment armies believes that the matter should be left to a new constitution, and with this a possibility, a joint resolution introduced by Senator Kessinger may give the question another foothold.

Wessinger's resolution would submit the question of calling a constitutional convention to the voters of the state at the next election for members of the general assembly. The resolution was referred to the executive committee.

Pass Bridge Fund Bill
First of the legislative timber to go to Governor Small will be Representative A. Otis Arnold's bill to allow cities to bond themselves for bridges built outside city limits, passed by the senate today.

Three senate bills passed third reading and will go to the house for action.

These are: A bill by Senator Hicks to provide for the payment of land taken in street widening projects.

A bill by Senator Jewell authorizing extension of assessments and refunding of assessments in drainage districts along the Illinois river that have suffered from the flood conditions of the past year and a drainage bill by Senator Deck, providing for appeal to the supreme court in cases where drainage commissioners have failed to enter into a contract regarding the benefits accruing to any drainage district as the result of another drainage district enlarging its works.

Appointments Referred
An appointment of John D. Walker of Joliet, as superintendent of prisons, Dr. Hirschfeld of Chicago, state alienist and Victor Michaels of Alton, as superintendent of registration, were presented to the senate by Governor Small and referred to the executive committee.

A resolution introduced by Senator Seary would appoint a committee of five to investigate and report on methods of issuing bonds of all descriptions.

Hearing on the contested election of Senator Lowell B. Mason of Oak Park, will be held before the elections committee tomorrow afternoon.

Warren Phinney of Oak Park, who brings the contest, charges irregularities in the polls.

COOLIDGE APPOINTS FOREIGN MINISTERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (AP)—J. Butler Wright, of Wyoming, now assistant secretary of state, was nominated today by President Coolidge to be minister to Hungary.

Another assistant, Secretary Leland Harrison of Illinois, was named minister to Sweden.

Hugh R. Wilson, of Illinois, a bureau chief in the state department was nominated minister to Switzerland.

The selection of Mr. Wright for the Budapest post, discloses the resignation of Theodore Brentano of Chicago, the president minister to Hungary, who is retiring from the diplomatic service because of age.

No announcement as to appointments to fill the two vacancies in the grade of assistant secretary of the state department were made. It is understood, however, that William R. Castle, Jr., now chief of the division of European affairs is slated for one of these appointments.

BYSTANDERS SUFFER WHEN CONGRESSMEN BEGIN FIST FIGHT

Bloom Takes Exception to Treatment Accorded Witness

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (AP)—Two congressmen, Tom Blanton of Texas and Sol Bloom of New York, today broke up a house committee meeting by engaging in a hand to hand scuffle in which the chief sufferers were the bystanders.

The encounter caused one woman to stand on a chair and pray, resulted in two men spectators coming to blows and spread confusion and rumors of sanguinary warfare far and wide about the capitol.

It was the third time in less than a week that members of the house and senate have started fights without carrying them to the point of harming each other.

The official committee reporter failed to move fast enough to dodge the arms of the two battling spectators and received a punch on the jaw. He dropped a pocket knife in trying to get out of the way and until he claimed ownership, a report was current that another spectator had attempted to stab either Bloom or Blanton.

Begins Over Witness
The rumpus began when Bloom took exception to treatment by the committee of a witness, the Rev. H. M. Lawson of Washington, who made a statement in opposition to Sunday blue law for the District of Columbia. Blanton accused Bloom, who is interested in several New York theaters of improperly defending motion picture interests. Bloom said one of Blanton's statements was "not true". Blanton countered with a lunge at his antagonist and when they were separated a moment later the Texas had the New York.

COYNER FRIGHTENED WHEN SHOWN HAIR; SMILES AT SKULLS

Giant Negro Believed to be Guilty by Police—Be- gin Deep Probe

MICHIGAN CITY, Feb. 15. (AP)—An array of four human skulls and a blood matted strand of blonde hair today failed to confound James Coyner, the giant negro serving a sentence in the state prison here for grave robbery, when questioned by Michigan authorities, regarding the four women's skulls and braided hair found in his trunk at Ferndale, Mich., where he formerly resided.

The grave robber only grinned when showed the four skulls but leaped to his feet and shrieked "take it away," when the blood-stained hair was laid before him. He then took refuge in the surly silence with which he for two days baffled the efforts of the officers to obtain information from him.

After concluding their questioning of the officers, Clyde D. Underwood, prosecuting attorney of Oakland county, and George W. Smith, Ferndale chief of police, said Coyner had given them enough information to believe him guilty of more than mere grave robbery. They returned to Ferndale to follow up fresh leads in the mystery.

Finger prints and photographs of the negro were taken by the Michigan officers to be used in circularizing him in an attempt to learn whether he has police records in other cities or prisons. The officers said he may be the Toledo, Ohio, club killer who beat to death several women last year. In their questioning of Coyner they said he told them of having several wives, marrying one of them in Toledo and at mentioning Toledo he suddenly became nervous and refused to answer the officers when they asked him when and why he had been there.

PONZI IS WILLING TO SERVE SENTENCE

BOSTON, Feb. 15. (AP)—Charles Ponzi, the "postal coupon wizard" of 1920, today declared would "take my medicine" which was in the form of a seven to nine year imprisonment as a common and notorious thief.

The sentence had been waiting for him seven months, while he engaged in real estate business in Florida, worked as waiter on an Italian steamship in an effort to reach his native land, was arrested in New Orleans by a Texas sheriff and he fought by every conceivable appeal to Texas courts and governors to prevent his return to Massachusetts.

Today he apologized to the court.

"I am sorry," he said, "that I did not keep my unwritten pledge to return and surrender last June. I am aware that I did not perhaps do what I was expected to do by your honor and my bondsmen and I apologize."

JAPANESE NAVAL WORK TO CONTINUE

Tokyo, Feb. 15. (AP)—Premier Wakatsuki told the house of peers today that naval construction would proceed in Japan notwithstanding the government's decision to participate in the disarmament conference.

16 YEAR OLD YOUTH BARES DOUBLE CRIME

Killed Woman With Poker—Boy, Five, With Bat

CONNAUGHT, O., Feb. 15. (AP)—A jazz tune from a radio today led to the confession of a 16 year old boy that he killed Mrs. Cella Brown, 27, and her five year old son, Frederick, Jr., last night when the woman repulsed his advances.

Floyd Hewitt, a farmer boy living just across the road from the Brown home, three miles from here, admitted to county officers, after three hours of questioning that he had crushed her head with a stove poker which she had snatched up to protect herself, and then killed the boy to conceal the crime.

His arrest followed information given the authorities by Frederick Brown, Sr., the husband, who found the bodies when he returned early today from his employment at a railroad engine house.

The radio was still on when he entered the house, and the boy was fond of music and had been in the habit of coming frequently to the Brown's home in the evening to listen. Brown suggested that he be questioned.

Found Motoring

Hewitt was found motoring about town with a friend. At first he maintained ignorance of the killing, but after long questioning asked to be left alone with Deputy Sheriff H. D. Hanum. A few minutes later Sheriff Frank Shelton was called in.

Shelton brought the story of the confession with him when he returned from the room. The boy said he had been seated on the davenport with Mrs. Brown and made advances which were repulsed. He said he renewed the attack and she struck him across the shoulder and across the face with the blow. Angered by the blow, he tore the weapon from her hand and chased her about the house, finally cornering her on a stairway where he killed her with blows on the head.

Kills Child With Bat

The child had been playing with a deck of cards at his mother's feet, ran screaming after her as Hewitt pursued her about the house, the boy said. After the mother was slain, Hewitt said he turned on the boy who fled to the basement. There for several seconds they dodged about in the dim light until trapped behind a furnace the lad was killed with his own ball bat.

After the confession, a warrant charging first degree murder was issued and Hewitt was taken to Jefferson where he was placed in the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

TO INCREASE MARINE FORCE IN NICARAGUA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (AP)—Altho President Coolidge was awaiting hopefully word from Rear-Admiral Latimer in Nicaragua as to the success of new efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement of the factional warfare in that country, naval preparations to increase the marine detachments under Latimer's command for use in protecting American lives and property went forward today without check.

Admiral Latimer was in conference during the day with Dr. Sacasa, a liberal claimant to the presidency.

If he gave any intimation of the success of his effort to promote an agreement between Sacasa and President Diaz it was not disclosed at the state or navy departments. In the meantime the navy department ordered the transport Henderson to Newport, Rhode Island to take aboard 800 bluejackets. The Henderson is scheduled to meet the fleet at Guantanamo, Cuba, but should the necessity arise to increase the marine force in Nicaragua, the ship probably would proceed from Newport to Quantico, Va., where 600 marines are available for embarkation.

SEND ST. LOUIS ROBIN HOOD TO REFORMATORY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 15. (AP)—Louis Glassman, St. Louis "Robin Hood," today was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the state reformatory at Pontiac when he pleaded guilty to charges of burglary and larceny. Glassman boasted of having a record of 107 burglaries in St. Louis and its environs. He told police that he gave most of his loot to the needy.

RECORD EARTHQUAKE

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 15. (AP)—A slight earthquake was felt in San Francisco office buildings at 3:55 p.m. today.

Arms Parley Invite Rejected By French

PARIS, Feb. 15. (AP)—The French government has politely declined President Coolidge's proposal for a new naval limitation conference.

The French reply made public this afternoon says that the government is convinced that following the American proposal would risk compromising the success of the work which the league of nations already has undertaken.

The reply, which was written by Foreign Minister Briand and approved by the entire cabinet takes the position that the circumstances of today are different from those in 1921, when the Washington conference was restricted to the limitation efforts of a few powers.

Today the note says armament limitations can be considered only as a whole and not piecemeal.

The note says that in the eyes of the league of nations there is the principal that all states, small and large alike are on an equality.

For France to enter a limitation agreement of a selected few powers would not be true to this principle the note contends.

To limit efforts to holding down armaments to a few powers and few types of fighting machines would, it is argued, enfeeble the authority of the league and at the same time violate the principle of equality of all nations.

It is to the interest of all the navies of the world," the note asserts, "to be associated in the deliberations on such an important problem."

M. Briand takes several occasions to hammer home the point that the league is the place to talk disarmament and put such words into action. He concludes by expressing hope that the United States would continue to associate itself with the preparatory commission of the league in making a study of armaments.

M. DAUGHERTY ON STAND IN MERTON CASE

Explains Missing Bank Records To Jury

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (AP)—A good time was had by all today when Mal S. Daugherty took the stand in the Daugherty-Miller trial.

Beaming benignly on United States Attorney Buckner, who called him to the stand to testify against his brother, Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, Mal Daugherty twiddled his fingers, thumbed his pocketknife and set Judge John C. Knox, United States attorney, defense counsel and spectators to laughing with droll replies about the way and his brother kept their personal accounts.

"Well," Mal replied to a question about whether he ever drew money on his brother's account, "whenever I needed any of Harry's money, I just wrote myself a check."

"And did money from your account go into his?"

NEWSPAPERS CHIEF MEDIA FOR RETAIL ADS SAYS MERCHANT

Other Advertisements Are Only Supplemental— Alone Inadequate

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. (AP)—Daily newspapers are, and must always continue to be the chief media for retail advertising, in the opinion of George B. Sheridan, Columbus, Ohio, executive director of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

This was the view expressed in a paper read today at the twentieth annual meeting here of the Inland Daily Press association. Mr. Sheridan was prevented by illness from attending and his paper was presented by C. E. Dittmer, his associate.

"Other forms of advertising are merely supplementary to newspaper advertising," said Mr. Sheridan's paper. "Alone they would be inadequate. Many of them are only temporary. The radio is an example of supplementary advertising which may prove to be only temporary. No merchant could trust to the inaccuracies and inadequacies of a message presented by the spoken word to carry a major part of his advertising program."

Women Study Ads
"Advertising is news and its proper place is in the newspaper. Intelligent women today study the advertisements of department stores and keep tab on the prices in the same way that the stock broker follows the market news and price fluctuations and the farmers in the condition of the markets for his produce."

The day of newspapers controlled by advertisers, or even of attempts to gag the press by advertisers are gone, Mr. Sheridan wrote. "Merchants realize today that a paper which could be so controlled would not be worth controlling or advertising in," he stated.

In a paper "On freedom of the press" by United States Senator Harry B. Hawes of Missouri, read at the meeting, Senator Hawes said:

"Primitive society recognized three ways in which an injured person might obtain redress; first, by self-help; second, by the help of his gods or ministers and, third, by the help of the state or political organization. To these three would add a fourth—publicity. Out of this fourth there comes a new remedy for the injured and distressed. Let us hope the press, in using this power will not be found coldly calculating, too nicely exact but will permit a display of charity and sympathy with the shortcomings of men just as does the kind-hearted and charitable individual."

RAIN, WINDS HOLD SWAY IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 15. (AP)—Drenched with three days steady rain, accompanied by high winds, the entire state of California was still gripped to-night by the angry elements. In some sections as much as seven inches of rain had fallen. The wind approached the intensity of a hurricane at Taft, ripping roofs from several buildings and uprooting all unprotected trees. Lashed by winds and waves two cottages at Santa Monica crumbled and beach dwellers deserted others, fearing the high surf would undermine their homes. In San Francisco a light earthquake was felt in office buildings at 3:55 o'clock this afternoon. Torrential rains fell in the Imperial Valley causing cancellation of the Tajana racing program until further notice. Heavy rains ruined another sporting event at Belmont, where the annual Women's Pebble Beach tournament was postponed.

A Los Angeles boy was killed by a skidding truck and an Oakland man blinded by rain, was run down and killed by an inter-urban train.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Feb. 15. (AP)—With the fury of a tornado, a screaming wind struck Taft, an oil field city today, stripping roofs from buildings in the business district and dwellings on the westward.

A. A. Crosbie, manager of the Taft Boxing Arena, received serious cuts when he was struck by a fragment of the arena's sheet iron roof which was torn off. The roof of the new hippodrome theater was damaged. Persons on the streets sought shelter indoors before the storm reached its height. Many trees were uprooted, billboards were smashed and radio aerials torn down.

FOUR POWERS PROPOSAL IS POSSIBILITY

France Rejects Five Power Armament Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (AP)—Possibilities of a move toward a four-power naval conference at Geneva, with France eliminated, loomed here tonight with receipt of the French reply declining President Coolidge's five power suggestions.

The American proposals in their present form, the French communication said, "risk compromising the success" of the preparatory disarmament commission created by the league of nations and already at work at Geneva.

That commission, it added, in French opinion affords a place where the "American proposal can be effectually examined."

The reply reached Washington tonight, too late for consideration by President Coolidge or Secretary Kellogg in official hours. There was no authorized comment.

Earlier in the day however, it was emphasized at the white house that President Coolidge had made his proposal because it was "perfectly evident" that no practical agreements for naval limitations were to be expected from the preparatory commission because of the participation of numerous small powers without or virtually without establishments.

The French reverse view. The French reply took an exactly opposite view. It asserted the rule of the league of nations, embodying the "principle of the equality of the powers, great or small," which principle would be injured by the American plan for a separate conference of the great naval powers. Such a move, it was added, would also "weaken the authority of the league of nations so essential to the peace of the world."

In view of the French attitude official attention was centered on Italy's reply. It is expected to be an acceptance. Officials go so far as to say that French refusal makes Italian acceptance the more probable.

As Japanese acceptance seems officially assured and British acceptance has been forecast, the four-power possibility is already taking shape in official quarters despite the refusal to discuss to what steps the French rejection might lead.

GALLATIN MURDERER TO BE HANGED TODAY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 15. (AP)—Joe Peck Smith, son of a prominent Gallatin county farmer, convicted of the murder of his wife, September 2, at their home in Ridgeway will pay the death penalty early tomorrow morning at Shawneetown unless there is judicial action to save him from the gallows.

Attorneys for Smith lost their fight before the state division of pardons and paroles at Chicago today and Governor Small said to-night that he would not interfere. Attorney W. R. McKernon, counsel for the condemned man, contended in his argument at Chicago that the evidence which resulted in the conviction of Smith was circumstantial.

Hinton G. Clabough, head of the state division of pardons and paroles, late in the afternoon notified the governor's office that the board would not recommend clemency and the finding was approved by the governor.

Smith was snatched from the gallows last October when Governor Small granted a reprieve in order that the case could be taken into the supreme court, where a petition for writ of error and superseas was denied.

MILLIONS DISPOSED OF IN DEERING WILL

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15. (AP)—The will of Charles Deering, former farm machinery manufacturer whose estate is variously estimated to be worth between $10,000,000 and $40,000,000 was filed for probate late today. The chief beneficiaries are Mrs. Deering and his four children who are to receive the residue of the estate after all bequests have been paid. The will contains bequests of approximately $1,000,000 included among which are $500,000 for Northwestern University, $340,000 for the Wesley Memorial hospital, Chicago and a trust fund of $100,000 for the Jackson Memorial hospital in Miami.

TWO KILLED IN CALIFORNIA WRECK

Whittier, Cal., Feb. 15. (AP)—Two persons were known to have been killed and six others injured tonight when the locomotive tender, baggage car and one coach of the Los Angeles Limited crack passenger train of the Union Pacific plunged into Puente Creek, five miles north of Puente.

SUBSTITUTE FARM BILL FOR SISTER MEASURE IN HOUSE

Aswell to Offer Policy of His Measure for the Present Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (AP)—The McNary-Haugen farm bill as passed by the senate was substituted by the house today for a similar measure it has been considering. The vote was 201 to 62. Shortly thereafter general debate on farm relief was concluded and the enacting clause of the substitute measure was read. This brought the bill to a point where amendments are in order.

The house then adjourned, leaders agreeing to postpone taking up the measure until Thursday to make way tomorrow for a batch of other bills.

Representative Aswell, Democrat, Louisiana, announced that as soon as the McNary-Haugen bill was brought up again he would seek to strike its declaration of policy and substitute that in his own bill. Should this motion carry, he said, he would substitute his measure for the McNary-Haugen bill.

Should Aswell's motion fail his bill would be practically out of the running and the fight narrowed between the McNary-Haugen measure and the Curtis-Crisp bill.

Amendments Wait
The vote to substitute the senate bill was sought by house farm leaders in the hope of passing the bill in exactly the form in which it was approved by the senate. This would send the measure immediately to the white house and avert a possible filibuster.

By carrying over consideration until Thursday the house leaders were seeking to postpone a final vote would be reached before late Friday or Saturday, depending largely on the time required to dispose of amendments.

FORD STOCK WORTH ONLY $4,000 SHARE WITNESSES TESTIFY

Wilson's Speech in 1912 Was Detrimental to Stocks Says Banker

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (AP)—Ford Motor company stock, as adjudged in the spring of 1913, encountered a bear market in today's hearing on the appeal of former minority stockholders against the government's attempt to collect $30,000,000 additional taxes on 7120 shares sold to the Ford family by Senator Cazenove of Michigan, and other share holders in 1919.

While previous estimates by experts placed the value of the stock as high as $12,500 a share, two witnesses for the government said it was worth only from $4,000 to $4,250 a share, early in 1913.

Woodrow Wilson's speeches in the campaign of 1912, and his threat to hang business malefactors on "gallows as high as Haman's" had a decidedly detrimental effect on stocks generally in the opinion of Arthur C. Clabough, New York investment banker. He estimated that Ford stock in blocks of any where from one hundred to two thousand shares, were not worth more than $4,000 at that time.

Sidney J. Weinberg, of Goldman, Sachs & Co., New York, estimated the shares at $4,250 in the spring of 1913.

Testimony that the bureau of internal revenue was clearly within its rights when it reopened tax assessment cases was given by Harris C. Armstrong, who is on the bureau's legal staff.

The federal revenue act of 1912 he said, conferred upon the bureau the right to impose additional taxes within the period set by the statute of limitations.

Communications are such in the stricken territory it is impossible to obtain an accurate idea of how widespread the shocks were, or how extensive the loss of lives and property.

Expeditions have started to the afflicted regions, which include parts of Dalmatia, Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The shocks, which numbered 19 or 20, occurred within less than an hour during the period of darkness preceding Sunday's dawn. They rocked the land on both sides of the River Narenta which cleaves Jugo-Slavia on the way to the sea, and both north and south of the mouth of the Narenta.

Some tell of the earth opening and swallowing up buildings; others of houses tumbling into the rivers, carrying with them the sleeping occupants.

CLOTURE RULE PASSED FOR BANKING MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (AP)—For the first time in history the senate today invoked on a purely domestic question its drastic cloture rule limiting each senator to one hour's debate.

The measure affected was the conference report on the McFadden branch banking bill, the adoption of which tomorrow will be the last legislative step in a controversy which has engaged the attention of congress for several years. The vote by which a filibuster on the bill was cut off was 65 to 34.

Twenty-eight Democrats joined with 37 Republicans in supporting the motion to make the cloture effective.

CATHEDRAL CAMPAIGN REACHES $116,000

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 15. (AP)—Outlying parishes in Springfield today reported pledges of $13,378 in the drive of the Springfield diocese for the Roman Catholic church for funds for construction of a new cathedral here. This swells total contributions in Springfield alone to more than $116,000 in the second day of the drive. The goal is $750,000.00.

Pledges from other dioceses reported to the drive headquarters here today were: Calhoun, $15,826; Jackson, $4,450; Effingham, $22,932; Alton $16,050.

REED SOUNDS CAMPAIGN KEY NOTE IN TALK

Attacks Republicans From White House To Cabinet

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 15. (AP)—With corruption as his theme, Senator Reed of Missouri, soon to be brought forward formally as a Democratic presidential candidate, delivered a sweeping denunciation of the Republican party in an address here today before the State Association of Democratic Editors.

Tracing alleged Republican irregularities from the days of Alexander Hamilton to the present, the Missouri senator who was the guiding spirit behind the senate inquiry into campaign expenditures declared that the "red line of corruption runs thru the capitol of the nation and crosses the white house grounds."

He charged President Coolidge with acquiescence in the Pennsylvania election corruption, and with dereliction of public duty by failure to move toward prosecution of former Attorney General Daugherty and the principals in the oil scandals.

Attacks Lowden
Turning on Frank O. Lowden, the senator declared the former Illinois governor "is now appearing on the horizon again as the special angel and champion of the farmers."

"He is about as well qualified for that position," Reed said, "as I would be for leader of the angelic choir."

Lowden, he added, had been re-elected from the presidential race of 1920 by the exposure of the payment of $48,000 to certain politicians in the state of Missouri in consideration of the Missouri vote in the oncoming Republican convention.

Describing the recent Pennsylvania election as the "Pennsylvania inquiry," Senator Reed declared that "here again we must literally start at the white house."

"The secretary of the treasury, doubtless with the consent of the president," he continued, "promised to Pennsylvania, publicly declared in favor of Pepper and actively engaged in the business of organizing his campaign. Together with his brothers and nephews, the Mellon family contributed $75,000 and engaged at once in the gathering of the largest slush fund ever accumulated to nominate any man for the United States senate. The fact has already been disclosed that this campaign largely controlled and dominated by the Mellon family raised and expended in the primary campaign alone $1,804,000."

Talks About Vore
"At the same time, Vore, the opposing candidate was gathering his sinews of war. The curious thing about his contributions are that men known as notorious grafters at election were admitted to the campaign."

I. S. D. PROGRAM IS GIVEN FOR SOLONS

Legislators Here For Affair Which Demonstrated Work of School—Entertainment Varied.

Several members of the Illinois legislature came from Springfield last night to witness a program staged by pupils of the Illinois School for the Deaf at the high school auditorium. A good crowd of citizens also attended the program, which demonstrated the work being done at the school.

Miss Irene L. Sandberg, principal of the school, presided, and introduced Col. J. W. Reig, the new managing officer. He stated that the school presented a problem far different than that to which he had been accustomed in his work at the soldiers' and sailors' home at Quincy. He expressed his intention of doing everything in the interest of the children in the school, and said that progressive ideas would be welcomed in the teaching administration. He stated that he wished to become acquainted with the people of Jacksonville, where he hoped to make his home some time to come, and that he wanted the friendship of all and expected to keep it.

The committee which arranged the program consisted of Miss Sandberg, principal, Miss Amelia DeMotte, supervising teacher; Miss Katherine Parker, rhythm instructor; Miss Emma Solberg, director physical culture for girls; Robert Erd, director physical culture for boys; Elbert C. Brasel, manager of band. The complete program follows:

Vocal solo—Katherine Parker (Evelyn Gardner at Piano)
Smilin' Through—Arthur A. Penn.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
Author of "You Can," "Take It," "Up."

ROOM

I like the wide, open spaces. I like the plains, the miles and miles of land so silent, yet with untold wealth hovering about their heads.

I like large rooms, large yards, large bodies of water—but most of all I like people with large hearts, into which flow all the many influences and forces that make human beings happy and which lend lustre to every beautiful thing.

Emerson, in speaking of the heart of Lincoln, once wrote that it was "as big as the world, yet it had no room in it for the memory of a wrong."

This world is quite vast at times, especially when you send out something good in it. And often it is a much larger world when something unkind is sent out into it. For, strange as it does seem, there are those who seem to delight in spreading hatred and in saying mean things that could not possibly return anything but loss and happiness.

Handel says that hatred is "a poison denser than that of Borgia, because it is made of our blood, our health, our sleep, and two-thirds of our love."

I know a man who goes out of his way to injure the reputation of certain ones he does not like. I have watched him for some time and have seen him increase his troubles and gradually walk backward toward failure.

Every inch of space in this big world is precious when someone wants to use part of it in which to leave one's hate.

This world will never be overbuilt with beautiful things. There is room for everything that will make it a better place in which to live.

At times when things look crowded, and feel more that way than they look, it's cheering to know that there are highlands in thought as well as in landed space, to which we may retire, there from that "roomy" place to get new and better visions, a clearer viewpoint on life and just a little better acquainted with the mode and manner of our own selves.

"Against Vane and his cohorts the Mellon forces pronounced anathema maranatha. They declared Vane unfit for the office of United States senator, that his methods were villainous and corrupt, that he was altogether bad. Yet the day after Vane's victory the same forces rallied to his support. Mr. Mellon became the chairman of the committee to conduct Vane's campaign."
"The election was held and William B. Wilson swept to the corporate limits of Philadelphia with a majority of 50,000. But the Republican machine at Philadelphia did its work. It rolled up an apparent vote so great that Vane seemingly was elected by a majority of approximately 200,000 votes.

"Yet we find that one of the chief actors in this iniquity was Mr. W. L. "And so I say that the red line of corruption runs thru the capitol of the nation and crosses the white house grounds.
"Once the praetorian guard murdered the just Pertinax upon the steps of the capitol and standing in the welter of his blood, sold Rome at auction. Are we approaching such a catastrophe?"
"There is but one force that can rescue our country from this quagmire of iniquity—an aroused public opinion. A flame of public indignation can alone bring the government back to honest standards. The conscience is sound but it has been sleeping. It will be aroused when the press of the land exposes iniquity and rallies the people to the cause of righteousness."

M. DAUGHERTY ON STAND IN MERTON CASE

"Yes, but when he needed any, he had to ask me about it. But I just took it from him without asking."

Ask About Records
Mal Daugherty was called to tell about missing records of the Midland National Bank at Washington Court House, Ohio, of which he is president. He was preceded, as a witness, by Miss Vera Veal, assistant cashier of his bank. Then her government attorney adduced testimony to show that records which would reveal that Harry Daugherty shared part of an alleged bribe of $441,000 were missing.

Harry Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, are charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States of their fair and impartial services in passing claims for nearly $7,000,000 of the assets of the American Metal company, impounded during the war, as enemy owned.

Previous testimony showed that Richard Merton, German metal magnate, came to the United States in 1921 to negotiate for the transfer of the impounded American Metal company assets to the Societe Suisse Pour Valeurs de Metaux.

Allege Payments Made
On the advice of late John T. King, the Republican National committeeman from Connecticut, Merton discharged his attorney and started negotiations for the transfer thru King and Jess W. Smith, Harry Daugherty's handy man, to whom King introduced him. On Sept. 30, 1921, Miller gave Merton checks for the assets. The next day, Merton paid King a fee of $291,000 in Liberty bonds. There had been a previous payment of $50,000 by check.

Testimony previously given also showed, the government contends, that $49,000 of the Liberty bonds were traced to bank and brokerage accounts of Miller. The government contends that King kept $12,000 of the money and that Smith and Daugherty got $224,000.

John Tossberg, employee of Watson & Co., New York brokers, testified that on October 4, 1921, his firm sold $24,000 of the Merton-to-King bonds for $22,163.81, on a special account called "No. 10," which King opened for this sole transaction. Instead of a personal check King asked that he be given a cashier's check. To arrange this, the firm transferred the sum to the Seaboard National Bank, which issued a cashier's check to King, whose name did not appear in the transaction. The check was issued October 5, 1921.

Call Federal Employees
The government then called employees of the general account of the department of justice and identified cancelled transportation vouchers to show that Harry Daugherty and Jess W. Smith journeyed to Washington Court House, October 12, 1921.

They were there October 13, when the cashier's check of the Seaboard bank appeared in the Midland National Bank.

Recalling Miss Veal, the government adduced testimony to show that records of the bank for that day which would have shown to whose account the check was deposited were missing.

Mal Daugherty was then called to account for the missing records. He said he did not know where they were or how they disappeared. He was questioned about missing ledger sheets for that day. The ledger sheets were for the accounts of Harry and Mal Daugherty and the Jess W. Smith, "extra" account, the latter, Mal said, being a political account.

Sheets Kept Together
These ledger sheets, Mal said, had been kept together. He was subpoenaed to bring the Jess W. Smith "extra" ledger sheets in October 1925, when United States Attorney Todd started a grand jury investigation of the American Metal case. When he appeared before the grand jury, Mal said, he was not asked to produce the records. He said that although he had been asked to bring only the "Jess W. Smith extra" account, he had brought his own and Harry's ledger sheets with him.

Later on, he said, he gave them to Harry at Columbus. Harry, he said, burned them saying they showed nothing. He was questioned in detail about a meeting at the bank the day before he left for New York in December, 1925, to appear before the second grand jury with the ledger sheets. The meeting was between Harry, Mal and Mal's attorney.

Mal denied the records were destroyed while they were in the bank together that Sunday morning.

The government expects to close its case tomorrow morning.

Negotiations Unbroken
HANKOW, Feb. 15. (AP)—Negotiations with the Nationalist government over the British concessions here and at Kinkiang have not been broken off but merely are awaiting further instructions from London it was stated here today by British Charge d'Affairs O'Malley. It was reported yesterday that a serious hitch apparently had occupied him from being brought to a successful conclusion.

O'Malley said that at his last meeting with Eugene Chen, nationalist foreign minister, the latter made an important statement which he (O'Malley) considered created a new situation necessitating further instructions. The statement he said referred to Sir Austen Chamberlain's speech of January 29, in which he outlined Great Britain's willingness to make liberal concessions to China.

Austen declared that England was prepared for a change on all points desired by China—extra territoriality, the tariff and the quasi independent status of the concessions.

FOUR POWERS PROPOSAL IS POSSIBILITY

If examination of the replies of the other three powers leaves any hope for attempting to go on without France, it seems wholly probable that such a suggestion will be forthcoming from Washington.

French Note Polite
The French note, polite in tone, opened with an expression of French appreciation of the noble initiative of President Coolidge as well as reassertion of the "Pacific will" of France.

Appreciation of the American proposal to leave its proposal "flexible in an endeavor to take into account the special conditions and requirements of the continental powers," also was expressed.

Article eight of the league covenant, it is pointed out, however, made general arms limitation "one of the essential duties of the league," with its fulfillment cumulating in the Geneva preparatory commission.

The new American proposal, it was added, would divert the commission of an "essential question which figures on its program to create on the side," a conference of a few powers.

From this viewpoint, it was asserted that the American proposal would weaken the authority of the league, "so essential to the peace of the world," and injure the principle of equality of powers, "great or small" to which the league is pledged.

For herself, France reaffirmed the position stated at Washington and again at Geneva for limitation by "global tonnage," under which each power retained freedom to decide an agreed tonnage limit.

In conclusion the French reply challenged the American expressed belief that there is no hope of early practical results from the preparatory conference. On the contrary it said provides other powers to bring to these negotiations like France, a firm resolve to succeed. There would be serious "chances" of the successful arrangement for a general conference of disarmament.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (AP) Secretary Kellogg, commenting tonight on the French reply to the American arms conference suggestion said that there appeared "to be several points in it, which must be caused by a misunderstanding of the full purpose of the proposals made by this government."

"It seems to me," said the secretary of state in a formal statement, "that the postponement to the indefinite future of all efforts to grapple with the problem of competitive naval building would strike a serious blow to the whole cause of disarmament."

"Very much hope that before the Geneva conference is ended the French government will lend its aid toward the consummation of such an agreement."

CONFESSES TO MURDER AFTER THIRTEEN YEARS

KEARNEY, Neb., Feb. 15. (AP)—After a silence of almost thirteen years, during which she lived with her nephew-in-law as his common law wife and raised six children, Mrs. Minnie Boyer of Kearney has confessed to Buffalo county authorities that her husband, Frank Boyer, missing since 1914, was "accidentally" shot and killed by another nephew, who is now dead.

Her common law husband, Henry Boyer, with whom Mrs. Boyer says she had a clandestine relationship even prior to her husband's death, has also confessed knowledge of Boyer's death and of aiding Mrs. Boyer and the other nephew in burying the husband "fourteen feet deep" by the light of a lantern on the night of March 17, 1914, near a barn on the Boyer ranch in Garden county, Nebraska.

Without any display of emotion Mrs. Boyer told of violent quarrels between her husband and her nephew, Thomas. On March 17, 1914, she said, Thomas and Henry went hunting with her husband. When they returned later, she said she asked them where her husband was only to be told by Thomas that "he just happened to get in front of my gun." Fearing that neighbors would become suspicious because of quarrels between Thomas and Frank, Mrs. Boyer said the two nephews and herself decided to bury the body that night, tell the neighbors that her husband "pulled out and then leave the country." She told how she held a lantern while the nephew dug the grave near the barn and how Thomas left Garden county that night never to return and how Henry has since remained with her. Mrs. Boyer is about 36 years old. She told county authorities that she loved her husband at least not after his nephew Henry, appeared on the scene.

Frederick H. Prince, of Boston, Mass., has made application for permission to erect on Fort Myer military reservation, just opposite the main gate of Arlington National Cemetery, a memorial chapel, to be used as a garrison chapel and mortuary. The structure will be dedicated to the memory of a son killed in action during the World War while a member of the Lafayette Escadrille, and also to the American comrades serving in the famous French air unit. It will cost $500,000.

Consumption of hard liquor in Germany last year was only one-third that of pre-war times.

UNION MINERS LAY CONTRACT ORDERS BEFORE OPERATORS

Wage Controversy Opens With Cross Fire of Opinions

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15. (AP)—A cross fire of proposal and opinion offered by coal miners and operators today in explanation of their views toward the drafting of a new wage agreement in the central competitive bituminous field served definitely to reveal the gap that must be bridged before common ground is found.

Led by their spokesman, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, the miners laid their convention instructions before the operators. These instructions call for the best possible contract based on "no reduction of wages."

"The operators met the miners' request with a proposal that a continuous wage scale be negotiated on a basis of competition with non-union mines in West Virginia and Kentucky. Continuous negotiations would then be placed under control of a board composed of mediators, operators and miners."

Operators Fear War
The miners' contention that there was no reason why wages should be reduced and the operators' reply that industrial warfare would follow compliance with the miners' demands.

Operator spokesmen for the four states composing the Central field agreed that conditions of the industry demanded a downward revision of wages in order that they might compete with non-union producers.

An attempt by President Lewis to draw from W. D. Haskins, of Ohio, who read the proposal to the conference, any specific rate that might be acceptable to the operators was met with the reply that an actual wage scale was a matter that should be worked out carefully and that the only demand of the operators was that the scale be such as to enable them to compete with the non-union field.

Charges Infraction
Charges that the majority of operators had not lived up to the letter and spirit of the Jacksonville wage agreement were made by President Lewis in presenting the miners' attitude. Many operators denounced the agreement before the ink was dry, he said, and within a year had flagrantly violated it.

Mr. Lewis blamed the disorganized and chaotic condition of the soft coal industry for the attitude of operators who would seek a downward revision in wages. He charged that certain operators have conspired to vilify miners in the most unholiest war in the history of American industry.

The industry said Mr. Lewis is suffering from many ills among which he specified impoverished markets, poor financing, poor business background and unemployment together with hazards to workers lives. He asserted the miners were paying too heavy toll for the industry, declaring that one out of every coal mine worker in the United States has been killed or injured the past year.

MODISH MITZI

Mitzi Starts Head First in Her Career

By Jay V. Jay

Mitzi is going to a school in designing just to visit the class in millinery. It's all very interesting, but the models she meets on the way attract her attention from the class work. What wonderfully high crowns for spring she observes. The hat in front of her attains some of its height by the chiffon flower perched on the top of the high crown in front. Then there is the hat with the accent of height given in the back by a flower. Peaks and points all show the upward movement. Mitzi has gained many ideas, chief among them is that she must go right out and shop for a hat somewhat similar.

The crown is very high and slants backward. It's made of bands of white satin set in black milan and trimmed with a white flower. It fits so well in the popular made of black and white. Of course, she might have been able to design one like it, but why wait?

"Well, well Mitzi," says Dad, "I admit I never thought you would do it." "What?" asks Mitzi a little guilty. "Make a stunning hat like that instead of buying it." "Oh," replies Mitzi, "I just got it to—sorry." "Now, wonderers Dad again, where is that saving coming in—he'd like to see some of it."

Tomorrow—New Spring Materials.

After the "Flu" is over —you need a Tonic

Help is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy.

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such case, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.
"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.
S.S.S. is unequalled for restoring strength and vitality.
You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S.S.S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.
S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

STUDEBAKER NAMES PRICE REDUCTIONS ON 75TH BIRTHDAY

SOUTH BEND, Feb. 16. —Sweeping price reductions ranging up to $200 were announced today by The Studebaker Corporation in celebration of its seventy-fifth birthday. The new prices which go into effect immediately, reflect the aggressive spirit of the corporation and the confidence with which it looks forward to what, in the opinion of its president, A. R. Erskine, will be the greatest year in its history.

The success of the recently introduced Custom Cars, and the remarkable economies effected by Studebaker's unique facilities for one-profit manufacture make possible reductions that bring Studebaker cars to a new level of value. The new prices represent savings appropriately passed on to the public on the occasion of the corporation's Diamond Jubilee anniversary.

The price reductions affect the Sport Roadster, the Custom Victoria, the Custom Sedan, and four models mounted on the Big Six chassis—The Chancellor, The Commander, The Sheriff, and the Big Six Sport Roadster.

The new prices bring the Custom Sedan from $1385 to $1235, the Custom Victoria from $1335 to $1235, and the Sport Roadster from $1250 to $1195. Brougham reduced $200.

The largest price reduction was made on the Commander, Studebaker's Big Six Brougham, which was reduced from $1785 to $1585, a cut of $200. The Chancellor, the Big Six Custom Victoria, was reduced from $1735 to $1645. The Sheriff (Big Six Phaeton) was reduced from $1610 to $1445 and the Big Six Sport Roadster from $1650 to $1495.

Reductions were made without changes in equipment, all the models being equipped with bumpers front and rear, disc wheels, and four wheel brakes in addition to the unusually complete list of fittings that characterize Studebaker Custom Cars.

Plans For Obtaining More Members For the County Organization Made Yesterday.

Members of the Morgan County Farm Bureau representing ten townships attended a membership meeting held at the Farm Bureau offices Tuesday. At the morning session J. C. Spitzer of the college of agriculture talked on the work of the state college of agriculture as it applies to the Farm Bureau. Mr. Spitzer explained how the college cooperates with the bureau on the extension program, both from production and marketing standpoint. He also brought out why farmers should be members of the bureau.

A number of the local representatives spoke, among them President Clifton Davis and Harold Joy, secretary. They told of their experience in signing up members for the Bureau. Mr. Davis has obtained 12 new members during the past month.

Farm Adviser F. A. Fisher explained what the Farm Bureau office is attempting to do to enlarge the membership. He told of the field service and stressed his readiness to assist on any occasion where a meeting or gathering is being held along the lines of the Farm Bureau work. He said that the Farm Bureau is ready at any time to help farmers put over any of their projects.

Following the dinner which was enjoyed at the Peacock Inn, the members heard a talk by George Metzger, who talked on salesmanship and explained the work of the state and national organizations.

It is the purpose of the membership committee of the Farm Bureau to stage a campaign to increase the present membership by at least 200. A program will be put on each year to appeal to the farmers to join in the only active farm organization in the county.

DOLLAR DAY BRINGS CROWD OF SHOPPERS

Semi-Annual Event Staged by Merchants of Jacksonville Was Success.

Dollar Day inaugurated in Jacksonville three or four years ago has not lost in popularity as was demonstrated by the large crowd of shoppers which gathered here Tuesday, to take advantage of the offerings of merchants on their semi-annual dollar day sale. While the bad condition of the dirt highways no doubt kept many shoppers at home, there was a marked increase in the volume of business at yesterday's Dollar Day observance as has been true of each succeeding event of the kind.

The increase of shoppers was especially noticed early yesterday morning. More people were on the streets of the business district than usual and most of them carried bundles to show that they had been trading.

Nearly a hundred Dollar Day shoppers came here yesterday via the J. and H. from Havana and intervening points. It was necessary to put a special coach on the regular motor train, in order to accommodate the crowd. Chandlerville residents who made the trip included Miss Minnie Shadd, Mrs. William Carr, Mrs. W. W. Mullen, Mrs. John Sarff, Mrs. Roy Sauters, Mrs. E. O. Hinchey, Mrs. B. F. Carr and Mrs. Cordelia Barrett.

Nearly a hundred men, representing general contractors, electrical firms, plumbing and heating contractors, etc., assembled yesterday afternoon in the social room at the Illinois Woman's College to witness the opening of bids for the new college science hall. Eighteen contractors bid on the general contract, and the computing of the hundreds of bids and a complicated process. The contract has not been awarded as the numerous alternate bids was work of computation is not fully completed.

G. A. Stieber was the only local man with a low bid, and it is expected that he will be awarded the contract for the electrical work on the building. The low bidder on the general contract was the Montgomery contracting firm of DeWitt and J. H. Hunt, singer & Co., of Davenport, Iowa. The bid on which the contract will be awarded is several thousand dollars less than the architect's estimate, which was $175,000.

Seven firms bid on the electrical work, ten on heating and ventilation, and ten on plumbing. There were thirteen alterations in the general bid, consisting of omissions or additions, which the board must decide before the contract can be awarded.

LEGIONNAIRES OPPOSE TRANSFER OF VETERANS

Pass Resolutions Protecting Against Proposed Action — Membership Campaign Discussed at Meeting.

Jacksonville Legionnaires went on record last night, against proposed legislation which would remove all world war veterans from the Jacksonville State hospital to the Jacksonville hospital for mentally disabled veterans of the world war at Elgin, Illinois.

A movement to enlarge the Elgin hospital and centralize all disabled veterans there is opposed by the local Legion men and resolutions voicing this opposition were adopted last night.

The Legionnaires in their resolutions point out that the mentally disabled veterans at the local hospital are being well cared for and that the location of the Jacksonville hospital is convenient to relatives and friends who desire to visit the disabled ex-service men, as most of the veterans are from central and southern Illinois.

The action was taken after it was reported that Perre C. Watkins, Department Commander of the American Legion, had requested the rehabilitation committee of the Legion to recommend to the state legislative committee on the Elgin affair that the Elgin hospital be enlarged at all mentally disabled former service men be housed there.

Grant Hughes, commander of the local post left the city last night for Chicago where he will attend a meeting of the rehabilitation committee, whose members will discuss the hospital situation. Local Legionnaires have taken much interest in their disabled buddies, and they have not been alone in their efforts to make the veterans stay at the hospital more enjoyable. The Jacksonville unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, the Knights of Columbus and other organizations visit the former soldiers often and provide entertainment for them.

Homer Bradney, chairman of the membership campaign reported that the drive for more members is progressing satisfactorily. Mr. Bradney told the Legionnaires about a plan that had been inaugurated to secure renewals and new members.

J. J. Kelly, who was a visitor at the meeting announced that he would contribute five dollars in gold, to be used as a prize in the drive.

Fred Cheek reported that plans for an open house at the post to be held in April are in progress. A definite date will be announced soon.

Glenn Skinner, Henry Ricks and F. A. Robinson were appointed as members of a committee to arrange for the construction of a tennis court in the rear of the American Legion Memorial Home. It was pointed out that in addition to affording a place for the playing of the game, the court would beautify the Legion lot.

The post was entertained by a number of employees and patients from the state hospital. The entertainment was very much enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the refreshment committee.

WINCHESTER SEEKS STATUE OF DOUGLAS

For some time past a movement has been under way in Winchester to secure a monument to Stephen A. Douglas there. Hon. Mary C. McAdams, of Quincy, representative from the thirty-sixth senatorial district, determined to devote her first efforts as a member of the 55th general assembly to secure for Winchester a statue of Douglas to be placed in the park there. Mrs. McAdams has introduced a bill in the lower house for the appropriation of $8,000 toward this end, and everything possible is being done to secure approval of the bill by the members of the general assembly.

The "Little Giant" once resided in Winchester and it was there that he obtained his first regular occupation. His first election to public office was by the people of Scott county, and in many visits which he subsequently made to Winchester he never failed to review the events of his early life there and to acknowledge the debt which he felt he owed to the community.

On the occasion of his last visit to Winchester in the fall of 1855 he said: "Twenty five years ago I entered this town on foot, with my coat upon me and without an acquaintance in a thousand miles and without knowing where I could get the money to pay for a week's board. Here I made the first six dollars I ever earned in my life and for the first time felt the responsibility of manhood upon me. A quarter of a century has passed, and that penniless boy stands before you with a heart full and gushing with the sentiments which such associations and recollections necessarily inspire."

The committee which has the project in hand in Scott county includes Fritz Haskell, G. W. Hogan and P. R. Nelson.

DR. RULE ADDRESSES TRIANGLE CLUB MEN

The Triangle club held a regular session last night with President John Murray presiding. H. J. Hildebrandt of Rock Island was a guest of the club and spoke briefly of service clubs and the worth while work they do in the community.

Dr. A. K. Rule of the faculty of Illinois college was then introduced as the principal speaker of the evening. He dwelt mainly upon the advance of science and the wonderful things that have been brought to pass in that realm. He said that the average American has at his disposal the equivalent of the work of a hundred slaves because of the achievements of science.

As an example of what science has brought to humanity the speaker referred to the X-ray, which has developed into one of the world's greatest aids in many types of illness and injury.

The advancement of science and power can only be attained by the advance of education, the speaker said, and he pointed out the danger there is in the increased power brought by science unless accompanied by increased knowledge. He said that science and education are as naught except as they add to the character of the individual. Lincoln he referred to as an example of the highest type of character.

THEATER PLAYERS PASS RESOLUTION

Resolutions deploring the loss of Dr. M. W. Snell as president of the Centennial Theater Players were adopted at a meeting of the members of the organization at the Public Library. G. Roy Scott was named to fill the vacancy made by Dr. Snell's death.

The following resolutions were adopted:

It is with profound sadness, we record the death of Myron W. Snell, President of the Centennial Theater Players, of Jacksonville, Illinois.

On the evening of October 21st, 1926, the Centennial Players were organized by those interested in good drama, and Dr. Snell, who had a great part in the furtherance of the organization, was unanimously elected President, and until his sudden and untimely death on January 4th, 1927, was an unselfish, energetic and tireless worker for the advancement of the aims of the Centennial Theater Players.

Dr. Snell was an exemplary citizen. He was out-spoken in his views on public affairs. He believed that his duty as a citizen was to serve the public at large and in discharging that duty he served all. He served in the Spanish-American War and in the late World War, and the sterling virtues which were developed in him in his early life and in his service to his Country in War, were reflected in his life as a citizen and in his friendship for others.

The Centennial Theater Players have lost an interested member and an able President, the community has lost a worthy citizen.

Consolation for his loss may be found in the realization that the members of the Centennial Theater Players shall always have with them as a vital force, the high standard of perfection he placed as the goal for this Organization.

JAY EMBE'S CRUMBS

Illusion
If, the only difference in creeds is "optical illusion," then all religions are nearer than we knew. Illusion makes a big showing until subjected to the tests, then it falls into flimsy nothingness.

Abundance
Abundance is the theme of Nature's song—
Dispensing boundless Love our path along,
And since His goodness we reflect entire—
To dwell in poverty then must be wrong.
The grass that grows so humbly at our feet
In beauty whispers of life replete;
Bright stars at night profusely gem the sky,
Both earth and sky the fullness strain repeat.

This Modern Age!
Cooking is no longer just cooking. It is a profession; it is an art; it is a science. Last year we counted vitamins until we felt like we were astronomical science calculators, and now we've got to make out color charts along with our meals, as well.

Better Drama
The movement on foot to better the drama is gaining momentum with each succeeding month according to all reports of activities along that line of endeavor. Recently the American Theatre Association in its meeting sponsored the plan to revive the Shakespearean plays in such a way as to have one play of the immortal bard's on each evening during the theatre season at New York. Public sentiment, at all times the ruling element, is arising against the unclean theatre.

Unforgettable
For years I have not seen you, even once.
Yet in the hush of each new day, at dusk,
At morn, at heat of noon, or afternoon,
I yearn for you, dear heart of mine, anew;
And now I know that years may come and go,
But I shall never lose you from my heart.

Not Enough Hours
The Daily Schedule, as compiled from various reliable sources:

Sleep, 8 hours; food, 3 times daily, 20 minutes each, 1 hour; Daily morning plunge, 1-hour; daily morning exercise, 1-hour; Necessary daily scalp treatment, 10 minutes; teeth, 3 times daily, 10 minutes each, 1 hour; finger nails, twice daily, 15 minutes each, 1 hour; daily massage to prevent "that old age look," twice daily, 10 minutes each, 2-3 hour; hair, twice daily (in addition to the frequent combing on street cars, in shops, the bank, the library, church and school, the street, and in the homes of one's friends) 30 minutes each, 1 hour; the daily hot bath at night, followed by a rub down, a massage, 1 hour; nightly creaming and massaging the face to "keep that school girl complexion" (which can be done easily enough if one's bank account is sufficient to keep the druggist interested) 1 hour; plucking and training the eyebrows, 10 minutes daily; shaping the nose, 10 minutes; exercising the lips to make them "flexible and shapely" 10 minutes; plumping the ear lobes, 5 minutes each; steaming the face, 10 minutes; ice-packing the face, 10 minutes; olive-oiling the eyebrows, the finger nails, 10 minutes; daily make-up, at frequent intervals, 10 minutes each, 1 hour; cultural reading, 15 minutes daily; time on a foreign language, (and every one should always be studying some new foreign tongue, any of which can be mastered by daily laboring) 15 minutes; voice culture, 20 minutes; deep breathing exercises, 10 minutes; a daily walk of 1 hour; the daily kindly act requiring but 10 minutes; one's dress should be a matter of deep concern, for "apparel oft proclaims the man," a problem not to be lightly considered, daily, (remembering always to change the costume as often possible, avoid wearing the same costume twice in succession, and if the purse is of an ample, fat quality, have a new one for every occasion. The rule is guaranteed to attract attention to the wearer, as well as the clothes.) 1 hour; daily labor, 8 hours; recreation, daily, 3 hours; music, twice daily, 1 hour each; news papers, 10 minutes.

The list is not complete, but authentic, as far as compiled. It will be seen by addition that the schedule already exceeds the prescribed 24 hours in a day. A Time Babson is one of the world's great needs, or perhaps some astronomical research work will discover how the earth may slow up her speed in revolutions, lengthening our days. Many other necessary things belong in the compilation such as education, religion, art appreciation, scientific research work. Some may be able to crowd in something extra during the 8 hours of daily labor, or some may be able to cut on the sleep schedule. At any rate much research is needed along this line of time so that each one may realize that Eternity is composed of moments, and that it is after all said and done about made out schedules, up to the individual to work out his own schedule to spend wisely of this Eternity.

Dollars Needed
A critic says of one of the remedial measures for the farmer, that "it makes sense." That's all right if it makes enough to add a few dollars to the farmer's exchequer.

Dr. A. E. Prince of Springfield, Ill., (Specialty Cataract) will see his Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat patients at the New Phoebe Hotel the first Thursday of each month.

Studebaker's 75th Birthday Announcement

Sweeping Price Reductions

The Commander, Studebaker's
Big Six Brougham, reduced

$200

Today—February 16, 1927—Studebaker celebrates its seventy-fifth birthday with price reductions which reflect the aggressive spirit of this Company.

Studebaker has lived and grown for seventy-five years because of its consistent policy of keeping ahead of the procession.

Studebaker Custom Cars, introduced recently, exemplify this policy. They have been the most widely imitated cars ever produced. In less than six months no less than a dozen manufacturers have introduced what they call "custom models" ... but a custom name doesn't make a custom car!

As Studebaker leads in design, so does it also lead in value. The new prices quoted below represent a supreme triumph of One-Price manufacture.

Illinois Loses Hard Game At Charleston

Charleston, Feb. 15. (Special)—Falling to hold to a burst of speed which carried them out to the front on the opening minutes of the second half after trailing at the close of the first period, Illinois college lost to Charleston, S. C., 23 to 21. Falling also to show their usual speed and ability to connect with the hoop during the battle lost the game for the Jacksonville five. They will play Sparks' college at Shelbyville Wednesday night.

Dropping their first game on a two day trip the Illinois cagers nearly sewed a conference game here when they came but 10 minutes of real basketball to the large crowd, to come from behind at the beginning of the second half, pass up their opponents by five points, only to lose the lead when the Charleston steps began crashing the hoop.

The first half was slow, each team attempting to feel out the other and discover its weak points. At the end of the first half, Illinois was trailing with the score standing at 13 to 6. Then Daner and Blandin began hitting the middle of the basket and Illinois took heart, flashed its usual vigor for the remainder of the game, but allowed Fowles, Charleston leading scorer, freedom of the court.

It was Towles' night at the hoop, judging from the manner which he dropped the ball through the hoop, getting 12 of his team's points. It was during the excitement connected with the close score that Renfro, who had been playing a tight game at guard, was removed from the Illinois lineup with four personal fouls. There was little doubt in the minds of the players, after the game had ended, that the score should have been reversed. With the realization that they have a hard job to face when they meet Sparks' Business college five at Shelbyville, and Eureka college on the home floor Friday night, the Blue and White cagers took to the blankets early last night with a determination to come out of the slump or make it miserable for their next foe.

Towles' loss set the Illinois five back to middle distance in the Little 12 conference, with no chance of winning a championship, but with some chances of finishing near the top of the league. They have to date, won four and lost four conference battles.

Friday night's battle in Jacksonville will be the make or break battle for the collegians.

SCHOOL LAD WINS IN HORSESHOE CONTEST

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 15 (AP)—Jimmy Risk, 16 year old Montpelier, Indiana, high school boy, playing in his first national tournament, met and vanquished the champion, two former titleholders and four other contestants today in the second day's elimination round of the National Horseshoe Pitching tournament.

The youth established himself firmly as the foremost contender for the championship crown, worn off and for a score of years by Frank Jackson, 65, of Kellerton, Iowa.

Risk met Jackson today and defeated the titleholder decisively 50 to 28, tossing 52 ringers, while the best Jackson could do was 41, eleven of which were doubles.

The Indiana boy-wonder next took on Putt Mossman, Eldorado, Iowa, who twice has held the title and beat him 50 to 29. Another ex-champion, C. C. Davis, Columbus, Ohio, bowed before the youngster's prowess 50 to 16.

Risk topped off his day's performance by taking the measure of a field statesman, Charles Jarvis, Marion, Ind., 50 to 4.

Risk scored 350 points altogether today against 90 for his seven opponents. He piled up 241 ringers against 151 for his adversaries and garnered 89 doubles compared with 29 scored against him. He hurled a total of 338 shoes for a ringer percentage of 71.3.

KIECKHEFER WINS 3 CUSHION TOURNAMENT

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. (AP)—Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago tonight defeated Otto Reisel of Philadelphia 50 to 20 for the world's championship at three cushion billiards.

The game was the forty-fifth and final of a round robin tournament of nine players which left Kieckhefer and Reisel tied with seven victories and one defeat.

Due to Kieckhefer's remarkable shotmaking, the game required only 58 minutes.

Kieckhefer won the opening shot and scored his 50 points in 31 innings as against Reisel's 20 in 30 innings.

Kieckhefer — 0 1 0 1 3 0 1 2 0 3 0 1 0 2 1 3 1 1 1 2 3 1 1 2 0 3 5—50.

Kieckhefer also won $100 for the best game, his 31 innings affairs tonight and Reisel won $100 for his high run of 10.

Reisel announced he would post $250 tomorrow to bind a match to play Kieckhefer within 60 days at the site of tonight's battle.

He said the next move would be up to the club. Bottomley and Pitchers Jess Haines and Flint Hearn are considered the most important of the Cardinal holdouts.

NORTHWESTERN QUINT PLAY ILLINI TONIGHT

Remainder of Sport Card at University to be Played on Saturday—Swimming Team Only Travellers This Week.

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 15. (Special)—Beginning with the basketball game against Northwestern here Wednesday, all University of Illinois athletic squads will see action this week. All the other engagements are on Saturday, for which the program is as follows:

Track—Iowa and Illinois at 2:30 p. m.
 Gym and fencing—Iowa and Illinois at 2:30 p. m.
 Wrestling—Minnesota and Illinois at 7:30 p. m.

Away From Home
 Swimming—Indiana and Illinois.

Against Northwestern, Coach Ruby will start Captain Daugherty and Olson, forwards; Lindsey, center, and Reynolds and McKay, guards. Don Gamble, incapacitated by an injury to a foot, will probably be available but Ruby will hardly displace McKay. The Illini still see a fighting chance to tie for the Big Ten championship. After the encounter with Northwestern, they do not play again until Feb. 25 when they meet Michigan here.

Encouraged by their victory at Notre Dame but realizing that Iowa is far stronger than the Illini, the Illini track men are making ready for their dual meet with the Hawkeyes here Saturday. Coach Gill's squad has lost some good men by scholastic troubles but there are prospects of some recruits this week. Doug Fessenden, veteran quarter-mile, may not be able to run because of a pulled tendon which prevented him from competing at Notre Dame.

A noteworthy feat was that of Wachowski who high-jumped 6 feet after two days practice. Wachowski has left the basketball squad and will devote himself to the jump the rest of the year.

The wrestlers, with the prestige of successive victories over Wisconsin, West Virginia and Chicago, expect the highest test, so far against Minnesota. The swimmers now have won from Iowa and Purdue and hope to continue

BLIND QUINTET PLAYS JERSEYVILLE TONIGHT

Baptists to Face Strong Junior High Team On Foreign Floor.

Facing one of the stronger of the junior high school teams in this section of the state tonight, The Illinois School for Blind cagers will battle Jerseyville court. Jerseyville defeated White Hall in a tight 9 to 7 game earlier this year and is considerably feared by the Blind five.

Coach Baptist announced last night that he would probably use the same five which has been going into most of the games this year. Cox and Nowatski at forwards, Welch at center, and Born and Falotico at guards.

ISSUE BIDS FOR 15TH ANNUAL TRACK MEET

Evanston, Ill., Feb. 15.—Invitations to 1,200 high school track and swimming teams to participate in the Fifteenth National Northwestern Interscholastic here March 26-27 were mailed out this week. The meet which last year attracted 500 prep school athletes has come to be regarded as one of the outstanding track and field games in the country.

Case Technical high school of Detroit won first place in the track meet last year and Wilmington high of Wilmington, N. C., took first honors in the swimming events. Twenty-six high schools won points in the track and field games and ten broke into the scoring column in the swimming meet.

Other schools which made good showings in the contests were Elmwood, Ill.; Northwestern and Northern of Detroit; Tilden of Chicago; Urbana, Ill.; University High, Iowa City; Champaign, Ill.; Elkart, Ind.; and Rockford, Ill.

Indications point to a much larger entry list this year and preparations are being made to house over 1,000 prep school athletes. All participants are lodged in fraternity houses on the campus during their sojourn in Evanston.

RICKARD RESPONSIBLE FOR FIGHT TICKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (AP)—The New York Athletic commission today declined Tex Rickard's request to investigate reported speculation on tickets for the Malone-Delaney fight and notified him that the Madison Square Garden corporation would be "held responsible."

Chairman James A. Farley indicated the board could take no action to curb speculation unless a formal complaint was lodged.

Request for the ticket investigation was one of two Rickard petitions before today's meeting, the second of which was granted. It will permit him to charge the same top price of $20, for the Me-Tigue-Jack Sharkey bout, next month as was granted for next Friday's melee.

A thirty day suspension was meted out to Louis "Kid" Kaplan, former featherweight champion for failure to fulfill an engagement at Rochester, N. Y., against Jack Brady. Kaplan pleaded illness.

"FAN BREEZES"

C. W. Whitten, director of the I. H. S. A. A., will announce the assignments and drawings for the annual spasm of tournaments within the next week or two.

Coach "Frenchy" Haussler of Pekin, has lost five men from his squad this year. But he has resigned to worry about it and the result is 14 games won and one lost.

No team has scored over 20 points on the Pekin five this year.

Glen Magnuson, new football mentor for the time being at Knox, has started spring football with drills on the wrestling mat. He believes that wrestling is one of the best methods of producing a good line.

Bobby Jones, golf star, says he won't cut his classes to play golf. He is enrolled at Emory University where he is studying law.

Layman and Connah, Lincoln college players, have been dubbed the "broken hand boys" at the Rallsplitters college on account of the injuries both men have received to their hands this basketball season.

Gilmore high school has a one armed guard playing on its team.

Coach John Mitchell is planning on a busy week for his high school cagers. They will meet Waverly here on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock and will play Alton on the home court Saturday night.

Coach Harmon is sandwiching a Little 19 conference scrap in the David Prince schedule of games for week, meeting Eureka on Friday night.

Coach Gene Mellon is also planning some activity for his squad this week, taking them to Modesto tonight where they will play tonight.

There should be plenty of basketball in this neck of the woods Friday and Saturday night.

Northwestern University has

FROSH AND SENIORS WIN IN I. C. GAMES

Sophs Drop Close Game to Freshmen With Score of 23 to 21—Seniors Rump Over Juniors 24 to 9.

Another round of the Illinois college inter-class league was played off yesterday afternoon in which the seniors dropped the juniors in an easy game with a score of 24 to 9 and the freshmen upset the loop leading sophomores with a tight score of 23 to 21.

Yesterday's defeat for the sophomores put them in the same standing as the freshmen, both teams having lost two games. The seniors are trailing by one game with the juniors on the bottom without a game on the won side of the ledger.

The lineups:

Seniors (24)	FG	FT	PF	TP
Rubendall, f.	5	0	0	10
Corey, f.	0	0	0	0
Wren, c.	0	1	3	1
Alderson, g.	1	0	1	2
Hoover, g.	2	3	0	7
Martin, g.	2	0	0	4
Totals	10	4	4	24

With Anderson and Wagner, two shooters of prominence in local basketball circles, getting the call for the starting position on the local pushing quintet, the business men are looking forward to one of the best games they have had this season.

Two facts to be considered when dopesters are attempting to win the game before it is played are that the Brown's invaders are third ranking in the Springfield industrial league composed of 12 teams, and that most of the men are former members of Coach Henry Porter's far-famed Athens basketball teams.

This is the first of a series of games now being planned by the local Brown's college with other members of the Business college system.

TIGERS MANAGER IS FEASTED AT HOME

Woodstock, Ill., Feb. 15. (AP)—The "home town" boys feted George Moriarty, new manager of the Detroit Tigers, here last night. There were speeches by everybody, including George, and the program was closed when citizens of Woodstock presented the guest with a leather traveling bag. Moriarty leaves this week for Detroit to start plans for the Tigers' spring training trip.

I. S. D. Whips Auburn With 10 To 9 Score

Playing a tight defensive game by the Burnsman proving to be and coupling it with a strong attack, the Illinois School for the Deaf cagers last night whipped the Auburn high school five the first time in five years with a score of 10 to 9. Playing before one of the largest crowds of the season, the Tigers came out to the front in the opening minutes of play and were never headed.

With legislators from the state capitol looking on, Coach Burns quintet showed a fighting spirit which has characterized their play in every sport that has been introduced at the school. The far-famed Deaf band was also at the game and gave some of the best music heard at basketball games this year.

Playing as a unit, the Tigers gave a real exhibition of basketball, using a short pass system effectively during the entire game. The passing was fast and accurate, showing considerable improvement over the work of the Tigers in previous contests this year.

The win was especially glorious for the Tigers, as Auburn has defeated them for five consecutive years in basketball. It also marked the initial appearance of the Deaf athletes before an unofficial meeting of state lawmakers and gave a good reason why they should have the new gymnasium which is now under construction at the west side site.

The Tigers did not wait long to get their start toward the top side of the score, dashing out to a 5 to 0 lead in the first quarter. It was during the opening period that the Tiger offense completely baffled the invaders, their short snappy passes taking the ball to the goal time of time.

Auburn snapped out of its lethargy in the second period and chalked up four points, the Tiger defense forcing them to make most of their points from long distance. Both teams scored a pair of markers in the third period which ended 8 to 6.

The Auburn offense was completely stopped by the Tigers, their efforts at breaking the defense set

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (AP)— Speculators for the advance encountered stiffer resistance in their operations today, due largely to the hardening of call money rates, but they succeeded in bringing forward new longers in both the rail and industrial groups whenever the old favorites showed signs of lagging. Trading was again in heavy volume the day's sales crossing the two million mark for the sixth time this year.
Calling of about $20,000,000 in loans, incidental to mid-month payments, accounted for the stiffening of the charge on day to day borrowing from the 4 1/2 per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. The declaration of extra dividends on the common stocks of the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey and Nebraska had a bullish effect on the oil shares. Speculative interest shifted again today from the industrial to the rail. Lackawanna and Wabash were the individual features both stocks being heavily bought on unconfirmed reports that the former might lease the latter and guarantee a four per cent dividend.

Railroad Stock Soars.
Lackawanna soared over six points to 154 1/2, the highest price since 1921. Wabash scored an extreme gain of nearly 10 points to 104 1/2, the highest price since the reorganization of the road over a decade ago, but it lost part of its gain. The average of 20 leading railroad shares touched the highest level since 1920.

Efforts to push U. S. Steel common thru the record high of 160 1/2 established last December were unsuccessful, large blocks of stock being offered around the 150 level. Steel advanced to within a quarter of a point of the high figure and then fell back to 159 for a small net loss on the day. Baldwin closed 12 points higher. General Motors, American Can, U. S.
Rubber, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Woolworth and other recent industrial favorites lost ground.

Among the new highs last night
were the steel common and preferred, Phoenix Hosiery, Freecorp, Texas and American Type Founders.
Cotton futures rallied 10 to 23 points in reflection of the large increase in consumption last year and wheat futures improved fractionally.

Raw sugar was unchanged, but coffee prices eased slightly.
Foreign exchange was slightly lower, demand sterling ruling around $4.84 and French francs just above 3.92 cents.

CORN AND OATS OFF; WHEAT PRICE UNEVEN

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. (AP)—
With wheat stocks of wheat showing 57,750,000 bushels increase, wheat price reacted from an early advance; suggestions that shipments of wheat to Chicago are not unlikely, counted also as a late bearish influence. Wheat closed irregular, 3c net lower to 3c up; corn 1c to 1c 1/2 down, oats a shade to 3c to 3c 1/2 off and provisions varying from 20c decline to 5c gain.

At first the wheat market had an upward slant owing a good deal to Liverpool reports that consumer demand was large and that quantities of wheat afloat unsold were almost zero.

Trade gossip said European continental exporters had bought a good quantity of wheat on ocean passage as well as a large amount to early shipment of grain and that more active purchasing on the part of European millers would soon be witnessed. However, there was an apparent dearth of trans-Atlantic demand today for North American wheat also some talk was heard of Canada having done a liberal business direct.

Meanwhile foreigners were on the selling side of future deliveries and doubt was being expressed in some quarters as to whether expected heavy arrivals of wheat in Europe during the next few weeks would continue to be readily absorbed.

Corn and oats turned easier with wheat in the late trading.
The cash corn trading basis was 1c lower to 1c higher. Provisions averaged lower with scattered liquidation on in land.

The Onward March of Aircraft

Manufacturing special gasoline and lubricating oils for airplanes has been the contribution of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to aviation.

The cooperation of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in the development of aviation has been the logical course for an organization which devotes its entire time and resources to serving the people of the Middle West.

The onward march of aircraft is recognized by this Company as an asset of signal importance to business generally.

Industry in general, and all the people whom industry serves must ultimately be benefited by the growth and expansion of aviation.

The benefits to the entire world from the development of transportation on land and sea are appreciated by every thoughtful person.

Swift trains and ocean liners have reduced distances on our earth, bringing about a shrinking of the world for purposes of commerce and communication, and making possible the present state of our civilization.

The use of the air for transportation marks a new era in the history of the world. It is man's most sensational triumph over the elements.

For centuries men dreamed of flying, but the natural law of gravity proved an obstacle unlike anything encountered on land or sea.

Finally science triumphed and the obstacle was overcome. With the first controlled flight of Orville Wright on Dec. 17, 1903, man entered a new element, beginning the conquest of the air.

During the first decade of the 20th century, the pioneering work in aviation was done.

Roughly speaking, the speed of the airplane has been increased at the rate of 60 miles per hour every four years since 1910.

Designers have increased the climbing powers and fuel capacity of their machines. They have improved the ease of control and the rapidity of manoeuvre. Rapid improvement in reliability has been made.

Sensational records of performance have been established—the flight around the world was perhaps the most gripping and appealing to the imagination. Today it is possible to fly around the earth!

During this 20th century distances on our globe are being reduced startlingly by aviation. For all practical purposes the world is growing smaller.

The importance of this shrinking of the world, to industry and to the welfare of mankind generally, is appreciated by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

For the success of its own business and in the interest of the thirty million people whom it serves, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) gives its support to the development of aviation, believing that as distances are diminished, with the shrinking of the world, understanding and prosperity will be increased.
